CALL FOR PHD APPLICATIONS

32 POSITIONS

IMT School for Advanced Studies Lucca's multidisciplinary PhD programs offer a unique and characteristic patrimony of competences within the broad framework of the analysis and management of a plurality of systems. IMT attracts bright students, young researchers and professors through competitive, transparent procedures at an international level.

All positions are fully funded for up to 4 years (no tuition fees); the admitted 32 candidates will also receive a research grant (which will amount to €15,300 gross/year) and free housing in the School's residential campus.

All students will have free daily access to the canteen and library.

One PhD position is reserved for a candidate interested in writing his/her PhD thesis on economics and management within the context of a joint PhD agreement with the KU Leuven.

Candidates can apply if they receive their undergraduate degree no later than October 31st, 2019.

Classes will start on November 4th, 2019.
