Faculty Position in Department of Psychology, Northeastern University
Area: Vision Science

The Psychology Department in the College of Science at Northeastern University (https://cos.northeastern.edu/psychology/) invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in fundamental/translational vision science to start in the fall of 2020 at the rank of Assistant Professor. We welcome applications from any area of visual perception, broadly construed, but are especially interested in candidates whose work integrates experimental and computational approaches.

Responsibilities will include teaching undergraduate and graduate courses and conducting an independent, externally funded research program. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in psychology or a related field by the start of the appointment and a record of research commensurate with rank. Candidates should have experience in, or be able to demonstrate a commitment to, working with diverse student populations and/or in a culturally diverse work and educational environment.

Northeastern University is an equal opportunity employer, seeking to recruit and support a broadly diverse community of faculty and staff. Northeastern values and celebrates diversity in all its forms and strives to foster an inclusive culture built on respect that affirms inter-group relations and builds cohesion. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, religion, color, national origin, age, sex, sexual orientation, disability status, or any other characteristic protected by applicable law. To learn more about Northeastern University's commitment and support of diversity and inclusion, please see www.northeastern.edu/diversity.

To apply, please go to the following link: https://careers.hrm.northeastern.edu/en-us/job/501326/assistant-professor. All application materials must be submitted through the online recruitment system, where applicants should be prepared to upload a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a research statement, a teaching statement, a diversity and inclusion statement, and up to five representative publications. They should also be prepared to provide information, including an email address, for three references. The references will be contacted by the online recruitment system and asked to provide letters. Inquiries about the position may be directed to Professor Peter Bex (p.bex@northeastern.edu), Search Committee Chair. Review of applications will begin November 15, 2019 and will continue until the position is filled.
